Annual Meeting of the Atchison Company — Manvel Again Chosen President of the Corporation.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SHREVEPORT (La.), May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The Pandora levee, in Bossier parish, broke last night in several places, and the water is sweeping down over a large area of country. It is a great disaster, involving heavy loss to hundreds of planters.

A dispatch from Greenwood gives a gloomy description of the situation in the Black Bayou country on Red River. The coast line steamer Yale Haven, with a relief committee, reached that section just in time to save 230 people and hundreds of mules, horses and cattle. There is not a foot of dry land in that whole section, embracing thousands of the most productive acres in the world.

COLUMBIA (Tex.), May 8.—This town, with the exception of one street, is under water, and railroad traffic is suspended.

THE ATCHISON.

Annual Meeting—President Manvel Re-elected—Other Officers.

TOPEKA (Kan.), May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] At the annual meeting of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad, the only change in the board of directors elected was the substitution of Levi C. Stade, president of the Mexican Central, for E. F. Peabody.

The following officers were unanimously elected by the new board of directors: Allen Manvel, president; J. W. Reinhart, first vice-president in charge of financial and accounting affairs; A. A. Robinson, second vice-president, in charge of operating affairs; J. F. Goddard, third vice-president, in charge of traffic affairs; Edward Wilder, secretary and treasurer.

No action was taken by the stockholders or directors regarding the proposition to give the present management control for five years. It is stated that none will be taken.

THE CLAYTON MURDER.

More Testimony from Los Angeles Promised.

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.), May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The Breckinridge-Clayton investigating committee concluded taking testimony today.

Powell Clayton testified that when Thomas Hooper was killed, in 1868, he (Clayton) was not responsible for it. Hooper was said to be a member of the Ku-klux, and the Sheriff of Conway county had ordered his arrest, after which the killing occurred.

Sheriff Shelby testified that he did all he could to discover the murderer of John M. Clayton, but had failed.

This evening Powell Clayton received a telegram from Dr. Weeks of Los Angeles, stating that three neighbors of Hooper would testify that he was at home during January, 1889.

SOUTHERN METHODISTS.

Worldly Diversions Condemned by the Conference.

ST. LOUIS, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] In the Southern Methodist Conference today, D. J. Dunkin of Tennessee introduced a long preamble and resolution, the substance of which was a condemnation of "taking such diversions as cannot be used in the name of the Lord Jesus." Among the worldly diversions condemned are theater-going, dancing, card playing and the like; also that the use of such expressions as "reformed theater" and "legitimate drama" have a pernicious effect on the minds of the young, and especially when used by ministers of the church. The resolution met strong opposition, but was finally adopted.

Another resolution to make laymen eligible for service on all committees precipitated a discussion, which consumed the remainder of the day.

CARLISLE'S AMBITION.

He Will Try to Succeed Beck in the Senate.

LEXINGTON, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Ex-Speaker Carlisle has declared his candidacy for the seat made vacant by the death of Senator Beck. In company with friends he went to Frankfort today to present his claim to the Legislature, now in session.

Judge Hilton Sued for Libel.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Papers were served today upon ex-Judge Henry Hilton in an action brought by James T. Graham, city editor of the World, for $50,000 damages for libel. The complaint is based on the letter written by Hilton to District Attorney Fellows, on which the Grand Jury found indictments against four members of the World's staff for criminal libel.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

Curtis Has His Little Fling at the Administration.

NEW YORK, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The State Civil Service Reform Association held its annual meeting last night. President George William Curtis said that the late revelations regarding the misgovernment of this city furnished a new demonstration of the necessity of civil service reform. He credited President Harrison with good intentions, while condemning First Assistant Postmaster-General Clarkson for having made 30,000 removals for political reasons—more than any administration before ever made in the same length of time.

The speaker made one or two condemnatory references to Senator Quay. He congratulated his hearers on the man whom one of the great parties will soon be obliged to make its candidate is so favorably disposed toward civil service reform. Curtis was reelected president.

A Chilian Story Denied.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Consul Calvi of Chili says it is impossible for the reported theft of $10,000,000 by Chilian customs officials to be true. The customs must be accounted for daily under very strict regulations. Such a theft would amount to nearly half of the receipts. He thinks the story was put in circulation to injure the financial standing of the republic.

Senator Beck's Funeral.

LEXINGTON (Ky.), May 8.—Funeral services over the remains of Senator Beck were held at noon today. Great throngs of people viewed the body lying in state before the funeral. At the close of the exercises the remains were conveyed to the cemetery, where the burial service was read and the body was interred.

MINERS STRIKE NEXT.

SECOND STAGE OF THE EIGHT-HOUR CRUSADE.

Seventy-five Under-ground Toilers Threaten to Go Out—Coal Miners Probably Not In the Fight.

By Telegraph to The Times.

PITTSBURGH, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] In regard to the report that miners of the United States numbering 75,000, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, will strike for eight hours, Vice-President Martin of the American Federation of Labor said tonight it was decided at the New York meeting that after the carpenters' strike was settled the demands of the miners should be presented. The carpenters' struggle is regarded as over, and whenever the miners are ready the federation will take charge of the matter. So far, however, they have not notified the federation officials of their intention to demand eight hours.

The coal operators here say the idea of coal miners striking for eight hours is ridiculous. The men are paid by the bushel and not by the day. They are masters of their own time.

CHICAGO, May 8.—A local paper says this evening that the strike of the coal miners in Northern Illinois is settled, and the executive committee of the National Miners' Union will issue a circular to the men tonight, ordering them to return to work on Monday. It is expected that on that day all mines in the State will resume operations. The joint conference committee was in session all day. The basis of the agreement is the agreement submitted to the miners by the operators at the recent joint convention, with some amendments to meet the men's views. It is understood the term of the continuance of the agreement is contingent on the success of the miners in securing the same conditions from the Southern Illinois operators. Should they fail, the present agreement will be void and a strike will follow, in which the miners will be supported by the American Federation of Labor.

BOSTON, May 8.—The building laborers have decided to postpone the contemplated strike until after the meeting of the master masons, at which action is expected on the men's demands.

The pavers have voted to work but nine hours after Monday.

CHICAGO, May 8.—Colored waiters in Kingsley's and other places struck at noon for reformation in hours of work and wages.

THE CRONIN CONVICTS.

They Manage to Run a Private Post-office.

CHICAGO, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Concerning the discovery that Burke, Coughlin and O'Sullivan, serving life sentences in prison for the murder of Dr. Cronin, had secured facilities for communication with the outside world by mail, a dispatch from Joliet says that investigation showed that Tom Hills, foreman of the outside gangs for the copper contract, was the mail carrier. He took out letters from the convicts and replies were sent under cover to his house. He has been discharged. Nothing was discovered in the letters so far found except a request for certain luxuries which the prisoners wanted smuggled in. But there has been much wild speculation as to the extent and nature of the correspondence. Attorney Forrest, who represents the prisoners, scoffs at the idea that there is anything in the nature of a plot by means of which the prisoners hope to escape. He declares they do not wish to escape, being convinced that the Supreme Court will soon grant them a new trial.

Foreign Flashes.

LONDON, May 8.—The Chronicle's Berlin correspondent says: Germany is disposed to relax the prohibition against American pork on condition that the United States agree to concessions in regard to German imports.

LONDON, May 8.—A dispatch from Australia says the Bishops of Melbourne and Ballerat have directed the clergy of their dioceses to refuse to marry divorced persons under the Victorian act.

PARIS, May 8.—The Cabinet has adjourned discussion of the question of taxing foreigners residing in France in order to ascertain whether existing treaties between France and various nations provide against such a tax.

High-life Elopement.

Red Rice's

Will Occupy 143 & 145 S. Main St.

LOS ANGELES, MAY 4TH—OUR OUSTOMERS will rejoice with us when we tell them that we have secured the splendid stores, 143 and 145 S. Main st., being the ones formerly occupied by Lion's carpet store. These stores are 160 feet deep by 80 feet wide. These rooms, together with the basements and the balconies that we shall erect, will give us about 18,000 feet of floor space. We shall now have salesrooms commensurate with our trade; central salesrooms unexcelled in the city, unsurpassed on this coast. Congratulations are now in order. We've got the stores, we've got the goods and we've got the people with us. Lucky Red Rice's. We do not assume that our wonderful prosperity and rapid growth have been from any great wisdom on our part. We have simply aimed to cater to the wants of the people at a reasonable profit. Our methods have pleased both buyers and sellers. The result has been Red Rice's trade extends throughout the country. RED RICE'S.

THE CHAMBER.

The Salt Lake Road Committee's Report.

THE CORRESPONDENCE GIVEN.

Other Matters Attended to by the Chamber—California on Wheels and the Dunkards—The Exhibit.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce held their regular weekly session yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with Hervey Lindley in the chair and Capt. Barrett acting as secretary. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

THE SALT LAKE ROAD.

The committee appointed about ten days ago to investigate the proposed Los Angeles and Salt Lake road made the following report:

LOS ANGELES (Cal.), May 6, 1890.

To the President and Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce—GENTLEMEN: The committee appointed by you to confer with Mr. Evans with a view of obtaining from him certain information regarding a transcontinental road, which it was thought could be induced to come to this city, and to correspond with the accredited representative of the said railroad, with a view of ascertaining upon what terms they will agree to build to this city, beg to state:

That your committee met Mr. Evans in the office of the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, on May 3, 1890, as requested; upon motion of Mr. Denker, Maj. George H. Bonebrake was made chairman of the committee, and I. H. Polk secretary. Mr. Evans then gave the information that a road called the Utah, Nevada and California Railroad had built and had in course of construction something like three hundred miles south from Provost City, in Utah; that Provost City was the western terminus of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad; that the people connected with this enterprise were abundantly able financially to complete it; that the president of the company was Frank F. Tiernan; that the attorney and counselor was Judge C. O. French; that the financial agent and director was James H. Bacon, president of the Bank of Salt Lake, Salt Lake City; and that Charles D. Moore was the chief engineer; and that the address of all of the gentlemen named was care of the above bank at Salt Lake City. That the headquarters of the company were at Provost City; that James H. Bacon was the party to whom all communications relative to the projected extension of the road to this place should be addressed. Mr. Evans further stated to the committee that Charles D. Moore, the chief engineer of the company, visited this city and San Diego several months since in the interests of his company, and that while here became acquainted with E. E. Hall, who could perhaps give the committee some information with regard to Mr. Moore and the company. Thereupon, on motion of Mr. Polk, Mr. Hall was added to the committee, and subsequently notified thereof.

With the above facts in our possession, we have written Mr. Bacon in the following terms:

LOS ANGELES (Cal.), May 5, 1890.

James H. Bacon, Esq., President Bank of Salt Lake, Salt Lake City, Utah—SIR: We, the undersigned, have been appointed by the Chamber of Commerce of this city a committee to communicate with you (who we understand is the financial agent of the Utah, Nevada and California Railroad), with a view of ascertaining upon what terms your company will agree to build its road to this city, and to one of the ports near by, either San Pedro, Santa Monica or Redondo. We are satisfied that our people would be inclined to make your company a liberal concession in franchises for right of way into and through the city to the ocean, and could promise you the best wishes and coöperation of the Board of Supervisors, the mayor and Common Council. We are also of the opinion that sufficient funds could be raised by the people of this city to almost entirely, if not quite, pay the expense of obtaining the right of way and terminal facilities; providing that they could obtain in return for such concessions cheap coal for manufacturing and domestic purposes from the line of your road and ample facilities for the transportation of our products of fruits, wines, etc., at reasonably low rates.

We are now having prepared and will send you statistics showing the products of this country, the number of thousands of carloads of fruit, wines, etc., particularly oranges, that are shipped from this and neighboring counties yearly, which statistics will enable you to form a correct idea of what may be expected as east-bound business by a road coming to our country.

We particularly invite expert investigation for the purpose of satisfying yourselves upon the points to which your attention is directed, and we promise that this committee and the Chamber of Commerce of this city will afford to your representative all possible aid to further such investigation.

In this connection we would also state that we are in possession of some information regarding a mountain pass which will be worthy of some attention and consideration on the part of your engineers.

Of course we do not know what you have done to this end, but the pass of which we are informed is one th t can be used to much greater advantage than either of the three that are now used by railroads approaching this city. The matter of the pass is one that we think worthy of special consideration, as it will save an expenditure of an immense sum to your company in the event Los Angeles is reached, as from the information we have received the mileage would be less and the grade through the said pass would be something like fifty per cent. less than that that either of the other roads are operating, the least of which is 116 feet to a mile as maximum. The mountain range to which we allude is the Sierra Madre, which must be crossed by any road coming to Los Angeles.

If there are any points to which you desire to direct special inquiry, we will be glad to give you the information desired.

Very respectfully,

(Signed) GEORGE H. BONEBRAKE,
I. H. POLK,
A. H. DENKER.

Your committee are not unmindful of the fact that these people should be required to show us that their resources are sufficient, and their intention bona fide to build the line before anything is done toward securing for them the concessions of which we have written, and fully intend to obtain that information in course of the correspondence. Respectfully submitted,

I. H. POLK, Secretary.

The report was ordered filed with the proper committee.

OTHER MATTERS.

The committee on mines and mining reported that several persons have offered to sell the chamber a fine cabinet of minerals for $1200. The matter was referred to the proper committee.

The secretary was instructed to confer with the State Board of Trade regarding the sending of "California on Wheels" to the Dunkards' conference in Missouri. The chamber has made arrangements for the Santa Fé road to carry products free to the conference. All products should be left with the freight agent at the Santa Fé depot, at the foot of Second street, on or before the 15th inst.

The committee then adjourned.

THE EXHIBIT.

Attendance Good—List of Donations.

Quite a number of people visited the Chamber of Commerce yesterday and examined the exhibits. The following donations were sent to the chamber yesterday and were placed in the exhibition hall:

Maj. Cook of Pomona, tangerines; C. W. Hicks of Los Angeles, silver skin onions; E. H. Workman of Boyle Heights, loquats; Baron Rognlat of East Los Angeles, large cluster of artichokes; Mrs. A. F. Coronel, one dozen Pampas plumes for "California on Wheels."

Flowers—Mrs. Hervey Lindley, Whittier; Mrs. C. S. McClure, Boyle Heights; Mrs. R. B. Young, Boyle Heights; Mrs. W. E. Knuss, Boyle Heights; Maj. Cook, Pomona; Mrs. A. Skinner, Pomona; E. E. Howe, Pomona; Mrs. A. Poland, East Los Angeles; Mrs. Dr. Gale, Mrs. Anna Hobbs, Mrs. Dr. Clacius; Mrs. Nettie Stearns of Wilmington sent to the chamber a box of choice flowers; Mrs. Dr. Scholl, Mrs. H. W. Cowles, Mrs. E. E. Robertson, Miss Jennie E. Sharp, Miss Rose Griffith.

Ten goldfish were added to the fountain exhibit yesterday. They were donated by Mr. Davis of the Golden Eagle ranch on Washington street.

A New Base-ball Nine.

During the past two weeks Capt. Moody has gotten together a team of ball players that he will play against the Los Angeles team of swelled heads, who seem to think they are the only ball tossers in town. Capt. Moody has named his nine the "London Clothing Company," and he proposes to give the lovers of base-ball better sport than has been seen on the grounds since the old Los Angeles nine split up. The names of his team will be published tomorrow morning. Young Jerry Moody will pitch and Early will catch for the London Clothing Company's nine in Saturday's game.

The "Clark Outfit" Case.

The case of F. L. Clark, Mrs. Belle Clark and Miss P. M. Seaman, charged with conspiracy, was continued in Justice Lockwood's court yesterday, until this morning, owing to the reputed illness of Miss Seaman. A physician's certificate was promised in verification of her statement, but, up to a late hour yesterday afternoon, the promised certificate had not reached the court.

THE MURDER.

CASSULLO CAPTURED IN SONORATOWN YESTERDAY.

His Statement of the Affair—Inquest on the Body of the Murdered Man Held Yesterday.

The TIMES yesterday contained an account of the killing of Emanuel Valergo, in a cañon near the pesthouse Wednesday night, and the fact that George Cassullo was supposed to be the murderer. A description of the murderer was furnished the officers, and yesterday morning about 5 o'clock officer Valencia, who know Cassullo, recognized him on Upper Main street, Sonoratown. Seeing the officer, Cassullo fled and hid in an outhouse, where he was captured and taken to the police station.

HIS STORY.

The prisoner made the following statement, in substance:

"Last night I was told that Valergo wanted to see me over at his cabin. In company with José Cordano I went over. There were several others in the cabin, only one of whom I knew. One man was asleep, and there was another man there named José de Maria.

"After a while Valergo and de Maria and I went outside of the cabin. We had all been drinking and were intoxicated. Valergo accused me of being a thief, and said I had stolen a harness from him. He commenced to kick me. I struck him.

"I defended myself and struck him a hard blow under the jaw with my fist. He fell to the ground and was unconscious.

"I did not use a knife or strike him with any instrument or weapon, because I had none with me.

"After Valergo fell I went home, and later Cordano came over and told me I had killed Valergo. I then came to the city and spent the night in the saloons in Sonoratown.

"José Maria was a witness to the whole affair. He can prove that I had no knife."

Dr. T. J. McCarty examined

THE WOUND,

which was a deep cut in the left groin, severing the femoral artery and femoral vein—a wound sufficient to cause death in a few minutes, as stated in THE TIMES.

Coroner Meredith held an inquest yesterday afternoon. A large number of Italians were present and remained in and around the Coroner's office during the afternoon, taking considerable interest in the case, and stating the ill-feeling that had for some time existed between them.

ANTONIO RAGHITTO

testified that Valergo and Cassullo went out of the cabin into the road, a distance of about sixty feet, that Cassullo called deceased out, and finally deceased called to Cordano, and then witness ran to the door and saw deceased throw up his hands and fall; there was a man standing near him, but it was dark and he could not identify him; when he reached the spot Cassullo had left. The witness, on being questioned more closely, finally stated that he saw the prisoner and deceased striking each other five minutes before deceased called out for Cordano to come to his assistance. In answer to the question why he did not interfere at that time, he said he did not have time. When Valergo fell, he heard him say: "Now I suppose you are satisfied—you have cut my leg."

OTHER WITNESSES

testified to the men leaving the cabin and going into the road, and also that they heard deceased cry out to Cordana to come to his assistance.

George de Maria testified that Cassullo had a barrel of wine to sell, and that he and Cassullo went to the house of deceased in reference to the matter; that deceased did not want to purchase, and a quarrel ensued; witness went to the cabin, and they walked out into the road, and soon heard the wounded man cry out for Cordano.

Another witness stated that a strange man was seen around the cabin.

There was a skin wound on the middle finger of the left hand of the deceased, evidently caused by a blow.

VERDICT.

The jury charged Cassullo with the murder of Valergo. The prisoner was taken before Justice Austin yesterday, and was remanded without bail. He will be arraigned this morning. Messrs. Shinn & Ling have been retained for the defense and Moye Wicks, Esq., will assist in the prosecution.

Deceased will be buried this morning at 10 o'clock in the Catholic Cemetery. Emanuel Valergo was a native of Genoa, Italy, aged 40 years and unmarried.

COUNCIL.

A Special Session Yesterday Morning

TO RECEIVE A LEGAL OPINION

Relative to the Treasurer's Bond—The Sewer Contractors Who Have Fallen Down—General Business.

At a special meeting of the City Council yesterday all members were present. The first business was the reading of the written opinion of City Attorney McFarland, which is as follows:

THE CITY ATTORNEY'S OPINION.

You have referred to me the communication made by Hon. E. F. Spence, who appeared before your honorable body representing the bondsmen of the City Treasurer and the different banks of the city now holding the city's money, stating that the banks were now prepared to turn the city money over to the City Bank since the Court has decided that it is entitled to the same, but asking that the bondsmen of the City Treasurer be indemnified against loss by reason of the money being transferred to the City Bank. The section of the charter providing for the loaning of the city's money provides, among other things, that after a depository has been selected and has given a bond which has been approved by the Mayor and Council, the Council shall direct the City Treasurer to deposit each day all public moneys of said city by him collected or received; that for each such deposit the Treasurer shall take the receipt of the bank, and from and after the deposit of such money in said bank, the Treasurer and his bondsmen shall no longer be liable therefor. All the provisions of this section have been complied with and the Council has directed the Treasurer to deposit the money in the City Bank, and it is with him alone that the city has any dealings. If he fails to deposit the money as directed he will be responsible for the full amount of the interest which the city would have received had the money been so deposited, and he may also be proceeded against by mandate. Whether the bondsmen of the Treasurer will remain upon his bond and whether they will be relieved from responsibility when the Treasurer deposits the money in the City Bank is something which the Council is not called upon to determine, and with which it has nothing to do. The charter of this city is its organic law, and if this provision in the charter exonerating the sureties upon the Treasurer's bond is of no validity, nothing that the Council could do could cure this defect, as the only power that the Council has is that given it by the charter. The Council has no right to give an indemnity bond to these bondsmen, and it would certainly not be in good taste to pass an ordinance exonerating them from liability, as the only reason that could be given for passing the ordinance would be that the provisions of the charter were invalid, a position which the Council should not take.

For these reasons I cannot advise that the request of these bondsmen be granted.

You have referred to me the refusal of Frick Bros. to enter into contracts for the construction of brick sewers for the reason that a clause had been inserted into the contracts to the effect that no Chinese-made brick or no Chinese-made material should be used in the construction of the same. Mr. Frick claiming that in the advertisement for proposals no reference was made to the use of Chinese brick or material, and for the reason that the clause should not be inserted in the contract. I have examined the advertisement for proposals, and find that his claim is correct. The advertisement also states that a check for 5 per cent. of the amount of the work must accompany the bid, but did not state for what purpose. In the absence of any statement as to the object of this check, it must be taken that it was to be a guaranty that if the contract was awarded to them they would enter into a contract to do the work in conformity to the advertisement for proposals. There being nothing in the proposals in reference to the Chinese brick or material, I am of the opinion that we cannot insert that clause in the contract against their consent, neither can we retain their checks upon their refusal to enter into a contract which contains that clause. The city cannot, and should not, enter into a contract which contemplates the using of Chinese-made brick or material in these sewers, and if Frick Bros. refuse to enter into a contract with that clause in it, the city should let the work to some other person. The Council has the right to advertise again for proposals, or it can let the contract to the next lowest bidder if it deem best. Yours respectfully,

C. MCFARLAND, City Attorney.

The contract with Fred Olschewsky and John Hnnter for the construction of section two of the Arroyo de los Reyes sewer was approved.

THE AUSTIN CONTRACT.

Councilman Van Dusen moved that in the matter of section 1 of the Arroyo de los Reyes sewer, Mr. Austin's check of $800 be declared forfeited to the city, as he had declined to enter into the contract, it appearing that the contract signed by Mr. Austin and the bond accompanying the same did not have a clause providing that "no person should be employed on said work who had not been in this city for the past six months," and, that clause having been inserted in the contract, against the objections of Mr. Austin, and he having refused to accept the same, and there being doubt as to whether he could be held responsible, on account of this clause having been inserted after the contract had been signed, and Mr. Austin preparing to forfeit the check, rather than continue the work, it is ordered that the check be forfeited to the city, and that the Clerk readvertise for the completion of the remaining portion of section 1 of the Arroyo de los Reyes. The resolution was adopted.

THE FRICE CONTRACT.

J. B. Frick said he would not sign either of the contracts for the construction of the central sewer containing the "No-Chinese-made-brick" clause.

Councilman McLean moved that the matter be referred to the Sewer Committee to report an award to the next highest bidder above Frick Bros.

Councilman Frankenfield moved as a substitute that the City Clerk readvertises for bids for the construction of the sewer. Carried.

GENERAL BUSINESS.

On motion of Councilman Bonsall it was ordered that the resolution passed at the last meeting, instructing the Street Superintendent to place a conduit across First street, near Evergreen Cemetery, be rescinded, as the matter is impracticable. Carried.

Councilman Wirsching moved that no certified checks with bids be returned to the bidder until the contract and bond are approved and signed by authority of the city and the contractor. Carried.

Councilman Hamilton moved that the check deposited by Frick Bros. be forfeited, and that they be debarred from hereafter bidding on any city work. Carried.

The Sewer Committee reported in favor of the bid of A. B. Warner to construct a sewer on Hope street at 90 cents per lineal foot.

The bond of Messrs. E. F. Spence and George H. Bonebrake, in the sum of $2000, as sureties for the Coöperative Labor Construction Company, was approved.

THE STAMP OF TRUTH.

A WORD ABOUT ADVERTISING.

We challenge comparison with any advertising done by any firm in this city on the question of veracity and straightforward business principles. We do not take the public for fools and endeavor to make them swallow statements absurd on their face. We use no flowery sentences copied from advertising books, but write our own advertisements, offer what we have to sell in as concise a form as possible and show a reason for any reduction we have to make.

We call attention to our large advertisement on the last page of this paper.

THE Mississippi River is again ruining plantations in Louisiana.

CARLISLE has announced his intention of endeavoring to succeed Senator Beck.

THE person who addressed to THE TIMES a communication signed "S.," relating to a recent sensation, is reminded of our invariable rule not to credit or publish anonymous letters. The writer is requested to send his name, in confidence, to this office.

MR. SMALLEY, who for nearly twenty-five years has represented the New York Tribune in Europe, and who is very well informed upon European affairs, writes thus in regard to Bismarck's future movements:

Those who consider that Prince Bismarck will yet square accounts with his former master have something to go upon. Never yet was the Iron Chancellor known to forget any wrong done him. He broods at Friedrichsruhe on the greatest of all the wrongs he has ever had to endure. It were not rash to predict that in his own way, at his own time, and with due regard to the interests of that Germany which he created, Prince Bismarck will tell the whole story about his dismissal.

THE Calaveras Prospect complains that the Resources of Arizona, a monthly San Francisco publication, which makes a specialty of paid "write-ups" of localities, did that county great injustice in an article for which the supervisors paid the paper $150. The description is said to have been incomplete, one-sided and untruthful. The very best advertising matter to send abroad is a respectable local paper. These professional "write-up" fakirs should be severely sat down upon.

THE lower class of Italian immigrants are very little superior to the Chinese as far as their influence upon the prosperity and up-building of this country is concerned. Of the immigrants coming to this country more Italians go back to their native land than of any other nationality. They come here in the early spring, work through the summer and fall, and then take passage for home with nearly all the money they have earned here. They invariably purchase return tickets and return to the United States the following spring.

THE citizens of Ventura propose to celebrate the one-hundredth birthday of Juan de la Rosa on June 5th. In 1833 Santa Ana sent him to California with a Government printing and publishing outfit, which he located in Monterey, and continued as Government Printer for several years. By virtue of his great age, and the fact of his conducting the first printing establishment in California, he is the oldest printer in the State. He is an honorary member of the Southern California Editorial Association. He has been noted for his temperate habits through life, and is still in the enjoyment of good health. He is still able to walk a considerable distance daily, and converses intelligently, but he is in indigent circumstances, and for several years has been cared for by a friend. It is suggested that a purse be raised for him to brighten his few remaining days. J. S. Collins of Ventura will receipt for all contributions. The case is a worthy one in every respect.

IN an opinion given by the City Attorney to the City Assessor, as to the payment by banks of their just proportion of taxes, some interesting and pregnant facts are disclosed. It is shown that, according to the sworn statements of the banks of this city, made about the 1st of March of last year, the banks had assets amounting to $24,200,000, while the assessed value of all the property upon which the banks of this city paid taxes for last year was $55,315. While it is not claimed that money due depositors should be assessed to the banks, there is nearly three million dollars in capital stock, reserve funds, surplus and undivided profits which certainly should be so assessed. We have a plethora of banks in which money which might be invested in productive enterprises is kept locked up. The least we can ask is that such capital should pay its fair share of taxation. If any favoritism is to be shown let it be shown to manufacturing enterprises, which are struggling to establish a foothold.

PARTY BLUNDERS AND POLITICAL GREENS.

John W. Green has, in compliance with the persistent personal importunities of Senator Stanford, been appointed by the President to be postmaster at Los Angeles. But he has not been confirmed by the Senate.

The appointment is an extraordinary event—an astonishing outcome of a long begging campaign on Green's part, in which the minimum of merit and the maximum of importunity have been exhibited.

The appointment is one eminently not fit to be made; it was made in disregard of the public wish and the public interest. The appointee, whatever he may have been once, is now notoriously inefficient and incapable of superintending the business of a large postoffice like that of this city. The office requires and is entitled to the services of a strong, alert, clear-headed and steady-nerved man. A "back number," who is on the ragged edge of imbecility, is not wanted. Mr. Green has no merit, either business, personal or political, that entitles him to this recognition over hundreds of better men and better Republicans. If he has ever performed any conspicuous or highly commendable service for the party or the country, to entitle him to the proposed distinction, the community has not heard of it. His Republicanism is of the milk-and-water sort, and his life aim has been the loaves, fishes and crumbs of the official table. In his last campaign for office he has made tears a ready resort and false swearing a convenient weapon. He is not made of true metal, but of poor stuff. We dismiss the man and deal with the master.

Green's appointment is a case of personal and corporate favoritism, pure and simple. He happens to have family alliances with Mr. Senator Stanford's railroad, and must be "taken care of," not by the railway, but by the United States Government. The interest and welfare of the Republican party of Los Angeles are, it seems, nothing when the importunities of the personal adherent and "back-number" henchman are poured into the Senatorial ear. Disregarding the protestations of scores of Republicans, many of whom withdrew indorsements once made, Mr. Stanford persisted in pushing a man not wanted, and whose superior was to be found in the persons of half a dozen other applicants—men of brains, capacity, business experience, address, alertness and political strength. The demands of "harmony," that much-prated-about but little-practiced thing is pretentious places, high and low, are thrown to the winds when "one of the family" is clamoring for place. Plausible utterances of pretentious regard for the interests of party harmony and the success of the coming State campaign have recently been heard in high quarters. The hollowness of these pretenses is demonstrated by an appointment which is notoriously productive of discord and disgust among the faithful. The objections that were repeatedly sent to Mr. Stanford against this appointment from many influential quarters ought to have been more than sufficient to convince him. They would have convinced any less stubborn and autocratic Senator; but Mr. Stanford, gorged on the patronage of office, upon which he has for so many years fed, and being accustomed to disregard the public will wherever it could be overborne by the use of his familiar arguments, long since ceased to permit either public protest or party interest to stand in the way of his personal will. He has habitually overridden the wishes, the rights, the privileges and the prerogatives of the California representatives in Congress, and has treated the Federal appointments for the State as his personal property. These facts are notorious. This state of things has existed for years, but it will not always exist. Republicans not in the Stanford or railroad camp have learned, to their sorrow, how futile it is to expect fair treatment at the hands of the autocratic Crœsus. But it is a long lane that has no turning. The mills of the gods grind slow, but they keep at work with a steady persistency that is bound to turn out a fine grist in the end. The people are greater than a single senator, when they assert themselves.

Leaving THE TIMES and the writer out of the controversy altogether, the unfitness and maladroitness of this appointment will be widely recognized. A strong appointment, that would have been beneficial to the party and to the public service, might have been made. But such an appointment was not made, and the logical results will follow.

We cannot do less than enter our protest.

Mr. Green, however, is not yet confirmed by the Senate of the United States.

SILVER LEGISLATION.

Special consideration of the Silver Bill was yesterday postponed by the Senate until Monday, when it will be taken up not to be laid aside until final action is had. At the Republican Senatorial caucus yesterday the silver question was again the subject of discussion. Once more no agreement was reached. The silver men refuse to support a bill containing a clause which will permit payment in bullion under any circumstances, and very properly so, for such a provision would make the whole measure a farce. Mining men who sell bullion to the Government don't want to be paid in bullion any more than a rancher wants to receive potatoes in pay for potatoes.

We have already referred to the curious fact that the House is now more conservative than the Senate upon this subject. This is owing to the admission of new States, which has increased the representation of the advocates of silver in the Senate in greater proportion than it has in the House. The question seems to turn upon the bullion-redemption clause above referred to. This provision which the silver men strenuously object to is the very one which reconciles the gold men, who are opposed to all silver legislation, to the measure. It is a link which connects the silver certificate with the gold standard.

The support which any silver measure will receive from the New England Senators will be founded upon their belief that it is a choice between such measure and a greater evil. Many of them are anxious to do everything that can wisely be done to keep the party in harmonious relations upon this subject, and to prevent what they consider a worse measure from taking the place of the proposed one. Eastern men at last realize that the West is in earnest on this question, that western sentiment has become a power in the land, and that it is not possible for the single-standard theory any longer to prevail. They see that if they insist upon the maintenance of their former views in their strictest sense, and refuse a compromise, they will contribute to legislation of a more radical character. The choice lies between the Jones bill and one which shall provide for absolute free coinage. Such being the case, it is safe to predict that the bill—or one very similar—will become a law at the present session.

Since writing the above a dispatch from Washington announces that Senator Vest has given notice that he will introduce a bill for the free coinage of silver as a substitute for the Jones bill.

VALUABLE STATISTICS WANTED.

The attention of all interested is called to the following announcements and requests, which come from official sources:

No organizations in the United States have multiplied more rapidly in the past 10 years than the sick-benefit, funeral-aid, death-benefit and other kindred societies.

As they are generally confined to those who are in the humbler walks of life, the good they have done is incalculable, carrying substantial aid to thousands of stricken families and inspiring those who are fortunate enough in being members with a courage which might not exist in their hearts without them.

The members of these organizations will be glad to learn that Hon. Robert P. Porter, superintendent of the eleventh census, will endeavor to secure the statistics of the noble work these associations are doing, and it is safe to say that no other branch of the census will be more interesting.

The business of gathering the data has been placed in charge of Charles A. Jenney, special agent of the insurance division, 58 William street, New York city, and all associations throughout the United States, whether incorporated or private, should assist by sending to him the address of their principal officers.

Any one interested in the sick-benefit, funeral-aid and death-beneficiary associations of the United States can help make the statistics of their organizations for the forthcoming census more complete and disseminate the knowledge of the good work they are doing by sending the names of such societies as they may know of, and the addresses of their principal officers, to Charles A. Jenney, special agent of the eleventh census, 58 William street, New York city.

AMONG THE POLITICIANS.

A very strong effort will be made by the friends of ex-Senator Carlisle to secure the vacant Senatorship in Kentucky caused by the death of Beck. Representatives McCreary and W. C. P. Breckinridge will also aspire.

Maj. Biggs will not be a candidate for reëlection to Congress. The Democracy are looking around for a man to fill his place on the ticket. Wright of Stanislaus, Caminetti of Amador, Filcher of Placer and Ostrom of Yuba are mentioned as candidates for the nomination.—[Red Bluff Sentinel.

A so-called electoral reform bill has been introduced in the New York Legislature which provides for the sealed official envelope system. That system is a mockery of reform. New York will do better to bide her time until David B. Hill is out of the way, and then she can have a genuine reform law.—[Boston Journal.

James H. Long, Prosecuting Attorney of Judge Joachimsen's court and secretary of the Democratic County Committee, is looking for the nomination for District Attorney. Ex-Assistant District Attorney John D. Whaley and Joseph J. Dunne, Prosecuting Attorney of Judge Rix's court, are also in the race.—[San Francisco Post.

A couple of months ago the Enquirer suggested that if the politicians in this State are sincere in their professed desire to have United States Senators elected by the people they could accomplish that result practically without any amendment of the Constitution by nominating candidates for Senator in their State conventions. The Los Angeles Democrats have since decided upon following that policy and will put Stephen M. White in nomination if he will run. Mr. White is an able man and would make a strong canvass.—[Oakland Enquirer.

The Democrats of Los Angeles have taken steps toward forcing Hon. Stephen M. White to make a canvass for United States Senator. They have presented him with a "call" in the shape of a resolution, which he has kindly consented to take under consideration. Mr. White feels his own importance as well as the importance of the position, and does not propose to rush blindly into anything that requires serious investigation. When he finds out just how the matter stands he will give them a "positive" answer in the negative, for he is not a fool this year.—[Fresno Budget.

Profitable Orange Culture.

Lewis F. Cram, Highlands, San Bernardino county, reports to the secretary of the Agricultural Society that from one acre of seedling orange trees, sold last season, he sold $1800 worth of oranges. He has each year spread about fifteen tons of barnyard manure on this acre and estimates the entire expense at $70, leaving a net profit of $1730, less pruning, cultivating, water and taxes. He sold in the four previous years $4400 worth of fruit. Mr. Cram is an ex-supervisor and has a reputation as a reliable citizen whose statement is to be depended upon.

Curing Lemons.

[California Farmer and Dealer.]

Gather the lemons when they show the first symptoms of turning yellow, and pile them under the trees on the ground, subject to varying sun and shade. The piles should be in quantity four or five bushels, to allow occasionally overlooking to assort and throw out the decaying. Dust with flour of sulphur to check any tendency to mildew. It will take time to yellow thoroughly, but the lemon is the better for this treatment, both in quality and color, as well as in thinness and smoothness of skin.

The Traver Child-slayer Attempts Suicide.

She Regrets That She Failed to Kill Her Second Daughter.

The Trial of Pratt at San Francisco Ends in His Acquittal.

Proceedings of the Episcopal Convention—An Effort to Change the Name of the Diocese Voted Down.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The Chronicle's special from Traver says: Mrs. Bresler, who strangled her 11-year-old girl last Monday night and then attempted, after the escape of her other child, to kill herself with an ax, is still living and is perfectly rational. She concealed a case-knife in her bedclothes, and the person who was watching her feigned to be asleep, and discovered her searching for the artery in her wrist to sever it with the knife.

She is fearful that she may recover, and regrets her failure to kill the other child. She exonerated her husband from all blame, and refutes the rumor of his cruelty either to her or the children. Physicians say it is next to impossible for her to recover.

THE CHURCHMEN.

Second Day of the Convention at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] At the morning session of the Episcopal convention the report of the standing committee was read. The committee defended its action in calling a special convention which elected Rev. Dr. Nichols assistant bishop.

Rev. A. L. G. Treat of San Gabriel offered a resolution denying that the southern delegates were feeling sore over their lack of participation in the election of the assistant bishop, and declaring that the best of feeling prevails. Rev. T. W. Haskins of Los Angeles voted in the negative.

Bishop Kip's annual report was read, showing that during the past year he had confirmed 512 persons and there had been three ordinations—one priest and two deacons.

Nominations for standing committees and board of missions were then made.

PRATT ACQUITTED.

Bromwell's Assailant Declared Not Guilty by a Jury.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The jury in the case of George Pratt, charged with assault to murder by shooting L. L. Bromwell, president of the California Insurance Company, last January, returned a verdict today of not guilty. The verdict did not mention anything in reference to insanity, and the result was received with great emotion by the defendant, who was warmly congratulated by his friends.

A Site Selected.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—The Evening Post says: Postmaster William Bryant and Col. John P. Irish, the two commissioners appointed by the Government to select a building site for the proposed new postoffice, have finally agreed to recommend the property on Howard street, between Second and Hubbard streets. The property is directly opposite New Montgomery street, and a portion of it is now occupied by the Church of the Advent.

Colors Presented.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—At the City Hall today H. E. Olsen, chief quartermaster of the United States flagship Marion, which returned this week from three years' absence on the China station, presented to Mayor Pond and the Board of Supervisors, on behalf of the ship's company, the vessel's ensign, union jack and pennant, which colors were procured upon the vessel's sailing for home. After the presentation the colors were hoisted upon the City Hall tower.

Fresno's World's Fair Club.

FRESNO, May 8.—A spirited meeting of citizens was held tonight, which resulted in the formation of a Fresno World's Fair Club, the object being to see that Fresno's products are properly represented at the World's Fair in Chicago. W. W. Phillips, manager of the Farmers' Bank, was elected president and O. J. Woodward, president of the First National Bank, was elected vice-president.

Dropped Dead.

SEATTLE (Wash.), May 8.—An unknown Spaniard dropped dead on the street this morning. On his person was found $108 in money and two empty envelopes, both of which were addressed to a priest in Los Angeles.

Judge Sabin's Condition.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—The condition of Judge Sabin of the United States District Court was said to be more serious this morning.

THE INSURANCE MEN.

Fire Underwriters in Session at New York.

NEW YORK, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The National Board of Underwriters began its twenty-fourth annual session today with a large attendance. President Heald in his annual address gave many statistics of interest to insurance men. On the subject of dead companies he said that 679 stock companies have failed or retired since 1860. These companies represented a capital amounting to $91,961,961, and assets of not less than one hundred and forty-seven million two hundred and seventy-six thousand eight hundred and forty-five dollars, all of which were either lost in business or withdrawn from it as not yielding sufficient return upon the investment.

On the valued-policy law, he said:

Valued policy legislation has been forced upon us vehemently during the sessions of several Legislatures this year, and thus far in New York, Massachusetts and Iowa, and during the previous year in Pennsylvania, such bills have failed of passage after the fullest and most searching examination. Wherever this is done, such bills will always fail to become law.

Mr. Heald spoke of the pernicious effects of this law where it has been placed in operation, and called attention to the results in Wisconsin. From eight years before it the ratio of losses to risks was 7205, and the average rate of premium 1.30. From the twelve years since the law went into force (1878 to 1879 inclusive), the ratio of losses to risks was said to be 8412, and the average rate of premium 1.34. The conclusion is inevitable that to this law is due this enormous increase in the destruction of property by fire in Wisconsin. The companies are not defenseless. They can and should meet and counteract the pernicious effects of this and all similar laws by increasing rates and reducing their lines far within the actual value.

In conclusion he said:

One fact forced upon us by daily experience and knowledge of our business is that the rates of premium are too low; that they are fast approaching the dividing line between profit and loss, even if they are not now drawing uncomfortably near the point of safety itself.

A Blow at Canadian Roads.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Senator Gorman today introduced a bill to amend the interstate commerce law, by providing that it shall be unlawful for any company operating a railroad in an adjacent foreign country to transport passengers or freight from the United States into such foreign country, or vice versa, unless the company shall have obtained a license from the Interstate Commerce Commission.

MILLIONS INVOLVED.

EXECUTORS OF A BIG ESTATE SUED.

Charged with Managing the Property in the Interest of C. P. Huntington—The Latter's Statement.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SALEM (Mass.), May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Litigation involving $6,500,000 and the reputation of the executors of the will of Thomas W. Pierce of Topsfield, Mass., who died in 1885, was opened in the Supreme Judicial Court today. Eight legatees named in the will claim that the executors have not been faithful in the discharge of their duties, and ask for their removal. The executors whose removal is demanded are Thomas W. Pierce and Charles Babbidge of Boston and James Converse of Austin, Tex.

It is claimed that Executor Babbage was in the employ of C. P. Huntington, who held and controlled 67,000 shares of Southern Pacific Railroad stock as collateral, and who, through the estate and the executor who was treasurer of the estate, could obtain about 40,000 more, making 107,000 shares, and thereby could make the price of the stock what he wished.

Contestants claim that they will show that Babbidge was under salary to the Southern Pacific Railroad or to C. P. Huntington and spent his time chiefly in New York in its interest. Counsel claimed an interest in the Southern Development Company at the time of the death of Pierce, of not quite two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Since his death accumulations have reached and would have netted the estate nearly seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars. This debt has never been canceled, and the executors had never taken any steps in regard to it. Under an allegation as to investment in unsafe securities, counsel cited investments held by the estate outside the Southern Development Company in 40,000 shares of the Southern Pacific Railway stock, which at par value would amount to $4,000,000, but which had dropped to about forty, and was still held.

For the defense it is claimed it will be shown that the executors could not pay the legacies, and that they were unable to do so because of the large amount of securities held by C. P. Huntington as collateral for the Southern Pacific Railway, and that they were financially unable to manage them.

HUNTINGTON'S VERSION.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8. — C. P. Huntington said today that the report of his connection with the holding of certain securities of the Thomas W. Pierce estate, as contained in a dispatch from Salem, Mass., this morning was an error. Huntington stated that he thought the cause of the suit was the removal of Andrew Pierce, a brother of deceased, who, as he (Huntington) had been told, had handed in so large an expense account that the other executors thought his dismissal was necessary.

Mr. Huntington was an intimate friend of the late Thomas W. Pierce, and says it was for the welfare of the two orphans that the bonds were held.

Another Measure to Secure Ballot Reform,

By Giving Federal Officials the Supervision of Elections.

Republican Senators Again Fail to Agree as to Silver.

The President Sends in a Batch of Nominations—A Postmaster for Los Angeles Among Them.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Representative Rowell, chairman of the Committee on Elections, who was instructed by the House caucus to prepare a bill providing for the extension of the functions of the national supervisors of elections, today introduced the measure to the House. It is patterned after the bill prepared by the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections and reported by Senator Hoar, but carried the principle of petition for judicial interference further, in that it permits fifty or more voters in a county or parish instead of 100 voters, to secure the benefits of the supervisory system.

It provides punishments for any person who shall change the position of boxes intended for Congressional ballots with intention to deceive. The chief supervisor in each election district is required to keep a poll list and list of rejected voters, showing reasons for their rejection. He is also required to separately receive these rejected ballots, place the name of the voter upon the back and inclose them in separate envelopes. Supervisors are also required to inspect all ballots as they are being canvassed and counted by local election officers and make separate returns of the result of the vote, being governed by the laws of the State in counts, except as otherwise provided by the act. They are also to inspect the returns for Representatives and delegates in Congress of local inspectors of elections, and note whether or not they disagree with their own returns. In case the polls are not opened within one hour of the time fixed by the State law, it is made the duty of the supervisors to open them for ballots for Representatives and delegates in Congress only, and to conduct the election and make returns according to the State law.

In each judicial district a canvassing board is to be created, composed of the chief supervisor, United States District Attorney and United States Marshal. This board is to correct imperfect returns with the assistance of the supervisors, tabulate returns for Representatives and delegates, and furnish a copy to the Attorney-General and Clerk of the House of Representatives. This latter officer is to examine the returns, and where the result conflicts with the returns of the local canvassing board to the extent of returning a different person to Congress, then neither person so certified shall be placed upon the roll of members until the House decides which has been duly elected.

SOME NOMINATIONS.

Officials for Oklahoma—A Postmaster for Los Angeles.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The President sent to the Senate the following nominations for the Territory of Oklahoma:

George W. Stella of Indiana, Governor.

Robert Martin of Oklahoma, Secretary.

Edward B. Green of Illinois, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

Abraham J. Seav of Missouri and John G. Clark of Wisconsin, Associate Justices.

Warren S. Lurty of Virginia, United States Marshal.

Horace Speed of Oklahoma, United States Attorney.

The President today nominated the following postmasters:

California—John W. Green, Los Angeles; Charles H. Weatherwax, Placerville; Samuel W. Backus, San Francisco; Isaac S. Miller, Ontario.

Washington—Mrs. Clare Darcy, Puyallup.

Still No Agreement on Silver.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The Republican Senatorial caucus this morning was largely attended. The silver question was again the subject of discussion. Again no agreement was reached. The silver men refuse to support a bill containing a clause which will permit redemption of purchase notes in bullion under any circumstances.

In the Senate Mr. Vest will offer a free coinage bill as a substitute for the pending measure.

Noisy Girls.

Jane Doe and Jennett Roe were arrested last evening on a charge of disturbing the peace. The girls are inmates of a block on South Broadway, which has been inhabited for some time by a number of notorious streetwalkers. Living in the same building, in adjoining rooms, is a newspaper man not entirely unconnected with the evening press. As far as could be learned the girls were in their rooms yesterday afternoon, using vulgar language, which annoyed the scribe, and he proceeded to swear out a complaint charging them with disturbing his peace. The warrant was not served until late at night, when both girls were arrested and lodged in jail, in default of $100 bail in each case. The matter will probably come up for examination today.

VICTORIA AND TENNIE.

An Old Charge Against the Latter Revived.

NEW YORK, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Ottawa (Ill.) advices state that a charge of manslaughter is pending there in the shape of an indictment against Lady Francis Cook of London, born Tennie C. Claflin, and who, with her sister, Mrs. John Biddulph Martin, formerly Mrs. Victoria Claflin Woodhull, arrived in New York a short time ago from England. The indictment was brought in La Salle county, Ill., in 1864, Tennie Claflin being charged with placing on the breast of Rebecca Howe drugs which ate away the flesh, causing death. In February, 1865, the court ordered the case stricken from the calendar with leave to reinstate the same. And it is to this latter clause that the reopening of the case may be due when the sisters reach Chicago, where they are expected to arrive shortly.

Lady Cook, when seen, said she never heard of the case until a few months ago, when a paper and letter from Ottawa were mailed to herself and husband in London, demanding $100,000 hush money to prevent a revival of the indictment. Martin also received a demand to the same effect, but the amount asked for was $250,000. Lady Cook stated she was only 16 or 17 years of age when she was in Ottawa with her mother, and that she was then exercising the power of curing people by the laying on of hands. This woman, among others, came to her and at her mother's request she assayed to cure the case, which she nevertheless saw was hopeless, by pressing her hands covered with magnetic ointment over her breast. The woman went away but afterward died from cancer. Lady Cook claims that the story is only the outgrowth of old persecution against herself and sister.

CARDIFF COLLAPSES.

The Minneapolis Man Defeated by Godfrey.

PROVIDENCE (R. I.), May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Twelve hundred people at the Gladstone Club tonight saw Patsy Cardiff of Minneapolis fall down before George Godfrey, the colored heavy-weight champion of Boston, in 16 rounds. The opinion was generally expressed by those who claimed to be conversant with the western man's peculiar tactics that he voluntarily surrendered the contest. A $1200 trophy was awarded to Godfrey. Cardiff was remarkably clever in dodging. His left eye became completely closed during the struggle. The men fought mostly at close quarters. The Boston man's left eye was discolored and his face was cut by the powerful left-hand blows of his adversary. Neither received any body punishment.

In the sixteenth round the men clinched near the ropes when suddenly Cardiff fell to the floor upon his face. He was seized with nausea. It was said he was suffering from exhaustion. This closed the fight.

READING NOTICES.

☞Gigantic Ice-machine Plant.—It is stated by a very reliable gentleman that a gigantic ice-machine plant is soon to be erected within a few miles of the city of Los Angeles. The location selected controls the most magnificent water power in the southern country. Its power is almost incalculable and its quality for purity scarcely equaled in the State. Having its source in the high mountains, its power of descent is very great and can be utilized to perfection, therefore needing only a moderate amount of capital for so formidable an enterprise. Having so much power for nothing, an unlimited amount of space to spread over and pure water to freeze, the manufacturing plant will be different from any now in use and is expected consequently to revolutionize the mode and manner of freezing ice. In this instance nature will be substituted as fully as scientific requirements will allow. This plant will manufacture the very best quality of ice No cans used. Ice will be frozen similar to natural freezing—the impurities will settle to the bottom of the water body. Sufficient ice will be produced to supply the whole southern country, from San Diego to Fresno, and at a very reasonable price by carload.

The Senate Postpones the Silver Debate,

And Takes Up the Big Pension Appropriation Bill.

A Day of Discussion on the Tariff Bill in the House.

Dockery of Missouri Leads the Onslaught for the Free-traders —A Wolverine Plea for Protection.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON (D. C.), May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Senate.—The Senate took up the House bill providing for the classification of worsteds, and debated it at length and passed it.

At 2 o'clock the question on order of business came up, and it was decided to consider the Worsted Bill to a conclusion, and then take up appropriation bills. The Silver Bill will be made unfinished business for Monday at 2 o'clock.

The Pension Appropriation Bill, appropriating for the next fiscal year $97,090,761, was taken up. Amendments were offered by Messrs. Sherman and Washburn to increase the number of pension agents from eighteen to twenty or twenty-one gave rise to a long discussion. As the vote disclosed the absence of a quorum the Senate adjourned.

House.—After the reading of the journal the House went into committee of the whole on the Tariff Bill.

Mr. Dockery of Missouri said that in the last campaign the Republican party claimed that the farmers would be benefited by protection. Yet after the Republican victory, the depression in agriculture was greater than ever. This depression followed the great protective victory. It was not a temporary condition the country had to deal with. Farm prices have not recovered since the panic of 1873. The constant tendency in the West had been downward since that time. He then proceeded to argue that it was not in the power of any tariff to raise the price of any agricultural product unless it could be shown that it was brought into competition with a foreign article. Instead of having to meet competition on our own soil, American farmers exported their own produce to supply the agricultural deficiency in European countries.

Mr. Morse inquired whether farmers did not have to compete with the farmers of Canada.

Mr. Dockery replied that the question revealed another injustice of the tariff system. The western farmer had no competition, but the effect of the tariff on agricultural products was detrimental to the farmer of the east. Eggs, with a duty of 5 cents a dozen, were brought from Canada to New York. Why? Because it was cheaper to pay the duty on eggs than to pay railroad rates from the West to the East. Therefore, the tariff gave no benefit to the farmer of the West and taxed the eastern farmer to the extent of the duty.

Mr. Dockery then submitted an argument in favor of free wool and reduction of the duty on manufactured products. In his State there were 1,000,000 more people than sheep, and as between people and sheep sympathy was with the people. Discussing the subject of trusts as connected with the tariff, he denounced the dressed beef monopoly of Chicago as having plundered the farmers of the West by unscrupulous exactions. If the farmer was to be relieved, if the mortgage was to be taken off his farm, the Government must speedily reverse its policy in regard to foreign trade. If the Government would unshackle our genius, unhamper our enterprise, unfetter our resources we would soon outstrip England.

Mr. Burrows of Michigan followed. He said the Republicans would reduce the surplus by one theory, the Democrats by another, and it was this conflict of theories which prevented the remedy being applied. In the campaign in 1888 the two theories were presented to the American people, and, after full debate on the platform and in the press, the verdict was rendered in favor of the Republican theory. The verdict was so pronounced as to wrest the Presidency and the popular branch of Congress from the Democratic party. In the measure the Committee on Ways and Means presented, it sought to execute the popular verdict, and crystallize it into law. The Democratic party was again going before the people with an appeal that they reverse their verdict. The Democratic party favored tariff for revenue; the Republican party favored tariff for revenue and protection, not incidental, not accidental, but intentional. Tariff for revenue only was a step toward free trade, and the Republican party was against it. [Applause.] The bill was intended as a measure of protection from the enacting clause to the closing paragraph. Mr. Burrows defended the tin plate, sugar and wool sections. Free trade meant unrestricted competition, unrestricted competition meant cheap goods, competition in cheap goods meant cheap labor, competition in cheap labor meant cheap flesh and blood, competition in cheap flesh and blood was slavery. Cheap clothing and cheap food were of no value if human labor was cheaper still. [Applause.] Free trade meant cheapness to the rich and idle, but longer hours and harder work to laborer. In this race for cheapness the Republican party did not propose to enter. Whatever might be the cause of the present agricultural depression, no one would be bold enough to assert that it was due to the policy which had created a home market capacious enough to consume (exclusively of cotton and tobacco) 95 per cent. of the products of the farm. Whatever might be the remedy for agricultural depression one thing was true, it would not be found in the markets of the world. "In this bill," said Mr. Burrows, "we have sought to reduce revenues to the basis of governmental need, without impairing a single American industry or depriving a single laboring man of the product of his toil.

Mr. McMillin of Tennessee proposed to stretch this bill, this putrid patient, upon the dissecting table. In some respects it was like a man, for it was fearfully and wonderfully made. Again, it was the earth at creation, without form and all in darkness. There was a general change from ad valorem to specific duties. The prices of commodities were falling all over the world, and this change prevented the consumer from getting the benefit of the reduction. The Democratic party would take issue with the Republican party on the new doctrine of bounties. He also denounced the increase of duty on tin plate. The gentleman on the other side spoke of the victory achieved by the Republicans in 1888. That was a victory where 100,000 popular majority was for the Democratic candidate.

This provoked a tilt between Mr. Milliken and Mr. McMillin which lasted some time. Mr. McMillin then proceeded to an analysis of the bill, asserting that aside from the sugar schedule there was not a schedule in which the duties had not been increased. He predicted that when the ides of November arrived there would go up from the Republican party a wail of defeat.

Mr. Bayne of Pennsylvania was opposed to any general discussion of the bill. It should be passed speedily. While this measure was pending in Congress the business interests of the country would be in a restless, uneasy condition, which could only be relieved when the President placed his signature on the bill. Referring to agricultural depression, he admitted that in some parts of the country the condition of farmers was bad, but he did not think it fair that the inference should be drawn that farmers of foreign countries were in more favorable circumstances. On the contrary, he asserted, foreign farmers were in a much more deplorable condition than the farmers of the United States. In the last ten years farm lands in England, small in area, depreciated $4,000,000,000 in value, while in the whole of the American Union the value of farm lands had not depreciated one cent. He predicted that the next census would show an increase in the value of farms in this country over the value in 1880.

Mr. Flower of New York spoke against the bill, and the House took a recess until 8 o'clock.

ON A GERMAN SHIP.

A POLICEMAN'S ADVENTURE WITH TOUCH TEUTONS.

He Attempts to Arrest a Mate, but Has His Prisoner Taken from Him by the Crew.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] A collector in the employ of an outfitting firm went aboard the German ship Theodore, which is anchored in the bay here, today, to collect some money from Third Mate Waldoff. Waldoff repudiated the debt, and after an altercation knocked the collector down. The latter went ashore and secured a warrant for Waldoff's arrest on a charge of battery. The warrant was given to Officer Mahoney, who went to the ship in a small boat, accompanied by two boatmen. As the boat approached the vessel the ladder was hauled up, but after making an explanation to First Mate Schukin the ladder was lowered and Mahoney was allowed to go aboard, although the ladder was drawn up immediately to prevent the boatmen from following him.

Mahoney went into the cabin with Schukin and Waldoff, and after some parley placed the latter under arrest. Schukin soon went on deck, and as Waldoff refused to go with the officer, the latter led him out of the cabin. When they reached the deck the crew, 27 men were gathered aft, and Mate Schukin pointed to the German flag floating astern and informed the officer that he was on a German ship and could not take Waldoff off. Mahoney attempted to push his way through the crowd with his charge, but the crew closed around him, grasped him by the arms and rescued the prisoner.

The boatmen hearing disturbance jumped on the ladder which had again been let down. One of the crew attempted to cut the ladder-ropes with a knife, but the boatmen told him they would shoot him if he did so, and they came aboard.

Officer Mahoney then concluded to go ashore for help, and as he left the ship the crew shouted expressions of contempt. Capt. Dunlevy of the harbor police laid the facts before Capt. Hower of the Theodore, who was ashore at the time, and the officer again went aboard the ship and arrested both mates without further difficulty. Capt. Hower gave bail for both, which will probably be forfeited, as the ship will sail in a day or two.

Chicago Railway Notes.

CHICAGO, May 8.—The presidents of the western railroads met again today, but without making any further attempt to reach an agreement, adjourned subject to the call of the chair. The committee on reorganization is still working.

Nineteen lines east and west of the Missouri River have adopted the new agreement of the Western Passenger Association, and are considering the rules. The Wisconsin Central is the only line not in. It still demands differentials, but the other roads hope to bring it in line, so that rates can be restored soon.

TOO MANY CLUBS.

Eastern Base-ball a Financial Failure.

Neither League Nor Brotherhood Teams Making Any Money.

The Managers Conclude That Some of the Clubs Must Go.

Contests on the Diamond Yesterday —Good Games Witnessed by the Usual Slim Crowds —Coast Contests.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Spalding of Chicago, Hawley of Cleveland and O'Neill of Pittsburgh held a long secret conference here yesterday. They decline to state the result, but it is known that the ball season, both of the league and brotherhood, has not been successful financially so far, and it is believed that a number of clubs in both associations will have to go to the wall unless something can be done to improve the situation.

The Pittsburgh league club has suffered the most, losing heavily from the start, and it is said it cannot stand the drain much longer. There is talk of its removal to Indianapolis. It is understood that yesterday's conference was held with a view to changing dates of games so as to prevent conflict with the players' schedule.

President Spalding said to a reporter: "One league or the other must go to the wall; they cannot go on as they are now doing, each cutting the other's throat. The public is being overdosed with base-ball, or rather with the fight for patronage between the two clubs. In view of the past history of their players, the brotherhood clubs should draw far better than they do, for they contain many men most popular with crowds in days gone by. On the part of the National League, I freely confess we are not drawing satisfactory crowds. As the situation stands, there is no money in it for anybody. Two opposing leagues are waging a war of extermination. It cannot last. One or the other must give way.

A DAY'S GAMES.

Record of the Playing in East and West.

CHICAGO, May 8—[By the Associated Press.] Heavy batting by the Chicago brotherhood team gave them an easy victory this afternoon. The attendance was 1800.

CHINESE WAR.

Two Celestials and a White Man Wounded.

FACTIONS AT PISTOL POINTS

A Sensation Which Stirred Up All Chinatown Last Evening—Serious Trouble Anticipated—An Old Feud.

There came near being a serious riot in Chinatown last evening at 7:30 o'clock, and, had it not been for the prompt action of Sergt. Morton and his squad, who had just started out on their night rounds, the chances are that the morgue would have been full of dead bodies this morning. As it is, about twenty shots were fired by the contending factions of the Chinese Six Companies, and one white man, who was a spectator, and two Chinamen were shot.

The fight started at 7:30 o'clock, on Alameda street, near the Chinese Theater, and for two or three minutes it looked as if the whole of Chinatown would be drawn into it. The scene is best described by the wounded white man, who drives a wagon for the Los Angeles Construction Company.

HENRY WOOD,

"I was passing up Alameda street when I noticed twenty or thirty Chinamen, near the corner of Marchessault street, talking in an excited manner. I saw that they were quarreling, although I could not understand a word of what they said, and I hurried by. Just as I had passed them I heard a pistol shot and started to run. I had gone but a few steps when I felt a stinging sensation in my hips, and called to a man who was passing me that I had been shot. He came to my assistance, and told me that I had better go to the police station to have my wounds dressed. At this time Officer Dunn came up and we walked back a few steps, when we saw three Chinamen running into a little brick building. I recognized one of them who was near me when the shooting commenced, and I am confident that he is the man who shot me, for he followed me several steps before I was shot. Dunn grabbed him just after all three of the Chinamen dropped their pistols. The other two made their escape, but the one who shot me was safely handcuffed to Dunn, and was taken to the police station. On our way to the station ten or twelve Chinamen followed us and ordered Dunn to let the prisoner go. I looked around and saw that they all had pistols in their hands, and were pointing them at Dunn. Dunn turned on them and drew his pistol, at the same time placing his prisoner between him and the armed Chinamen. He told them to go back or he would shoot. They hesitated a moment, but when they saw that they could not shoot Dunn without endangering the life of their friend, who was held by the officer, they turned back and we came out to the police station."

QUELLING THE RIOT.

While Dunn was getting Wood and the Chinaman to the patrol wagon Sergt. Morton and his men, who arrived on the scene a few seconds after the shooting began, were not idle. They found the two factions within a few feet of each other blazing away at a rapid rate, but almost as soon as the officers arrived the fighters ceased shooting and started off. About a dozen of them were placed under arrest and were taken at once to the police station. The wounded and dying were not as plentiful as one would have supposed, for the only man found was a big Chinaman named who was rolling in the dust in what seemed to be a dying condition. Lung was taken up to the operating-room, and Drs. Morrison and Wing, the police surgeons, were sent for. They found that he had received two bullet wounds, one in the pit of the stomach, which passed through him, coming out near the small of the back, and another in the left foot. The wound in the stomach was pronounced fatal, in case it had cut any of the intestines. The doctors made up their minds to open his stomach and perform one of the most difficult operations in surgery in case the entrails were cut. Drs. Ainsworth of the Southern Pacific, Kurtz, Lasher, Bicknell and Choate were sent for, and after a hurried consultation, they went to work on the wounded man. They found that the bullet, which was from a 45-caliber pistol, had severed several intestines. The operation was performed in the most scientific manner, but it is hard to tell what the result will be. Several operations of the kind have been successful, but there are very few that succeed in the general average.

KUNG AH LUNG,

Woods's injury, which was nothing but a flesh wound, was soon dressed and he was sent home. He will be out in a few days.

THIRTEEN CHINAMEN

were arrested and locked up for carrying concealed weapons and on charges of assault to commit murder, but it will be almost impossible to identify any of them as the men who did the shooting. The Chinaman who was shot in the stomach was identified by some of his friends as a friend of the Ah Mow faction who came down from Santa Barbara yesterday. They say he had nothing to do with the quarrel, and was simply a spectator.

The Chinamen who were locked up answered to the following names: Sam Sui, who is supposed to have shot Woods, Ah Ching, Tony Ling, Ching Wing, Lee Him, Lee Yim, Ah Soni, Joe Hong, for carrying concealed weapons; Ah Jung as a witness and Ah Lung on suspicion.

Five of the number arrested were discharged, as no weapons were found on them, and there was no other evidence that they had been engaged in the riot.

About midnight the others, who were charged with carrying concealed weapons, were released on $20 bail each.

Police Clerk Moffitt had considerable difficulty in classifying the articles found in the possession of this large crowd of prisoners. Chinese invariably carry a large number of packages in their several pockets, varying from a revolver and opium pipe to a fan-tan layout, and on this occasion every prisoner was "loaded," and the property-room represented a miniature museum.

ANOTHER WOUNDED CELESTIAL.

At 9:30 Sergt. Jeffries and Officer Collins, who were searching a little frame building near the scene of the fight for some of the shooters, found Mong Ki Ling on a mat in an unconscious condition. On examining him they found that he had been wounded in both legs. He was surrounded by his friends and several Chinese doctors, who had just dressed his wounds. He had been shot through both hips, but the wounds are not considered dangerous. The Chinese doctors had covered the wounds with pitch or some kind of a black paste. The fellow was taken to the police station, where Dr. Morrison dressed his wounds. He was identified by some of the Ah Mow gang as the man who shot Lung, but it is all guesswork.

CAUSE OF THE ROW.

The fight is the outcome of an old quarrel between the Ah Mow and the Wong Chee factions. Each side calls the other a gang of highbinders. Ah Mow runs the Chinese theater, and has a strong following, while Wong Chee presides over the Chinese Temple of Masons or Bing Quong Tong Society, and has a large following. Both of these factions have been ready to jump at each other's throats for a number of years, and the police have expected an outbreak at any moment. A few months ago the Wong Chee gang gave out that they intended to raid Mow's theater, and they plastered the walls with notices, warning their people to keep out of the theater on a certain evening. The notice was translated for the benefit of the police, and on the evening fixed for the fight they were present in force, and the highbinders kept quiet.

This factional fight was finally brought about by the representatives of one faction breaking into a theater and stealing the star's wardrobe and other property valued at about $500. The theft was committed, it is stated on the authority of a Chinese, because the tragedian spouter would not join the rival faction. There have been rumors of the impending riot for the past few days, and last evening it was brought about in a very simple way. A representative of one faction stepped up to a stall and laid a nickel on the counter for a piece of sugar cane; a representative of the rival faction stepped up simultaneously, asked for some sugar cane, took the same nickel and offered it as payment. A dispute arose over its ownership, and finally they drew their weapons and began firing, when it soon became general, shots coming from almost every direction, showing that the skirmish had been planned.

About 1 o'clock this morning Wong Ki Ling's room was entered and ransacked, the Chinese evidently hunting for money and other valuables.

ARMED CAP-A-PIE.

Whenever Mow or Chee go on the street they are surrounded by a strong guard of armed Chinese, and the officers are confident that whenever these two leaders come together there will be a bloody fight. Some of the most blood thirsty highbinders of San Francisco are now here in the employ of Mow and Chee, and it is only a question of time when one or both will be killed. Both men are wealthy, and claim to have strong backing in San Francisco. They are rival bosses, and in the old days when gambling was allowed to be run by corrupt officers these two men had their own games running in opposition, and the side which was most popular with the bribe-takers could have his rival's game raided. This mode of warfare was carried on for some time, and finally resulted in both sides being closed up. Since the games were closed the war has been hotter than ever.

WATER RATES.

THE HILL-DWELLERS MIGHTILY STIRRED UP.

They Are Afraid of the Meters Already Installed and Those on the Way—Some Figures.

In the report of the last session of the Crown Hills Improvement Club it developed that there is a good deal of dissatisfaction among people who reside on the hills in the western part of town relative to water rates, present and prospective. The Citizens' Water Company recently received 55 water meters which they put in place to register the consumption at as many places, and it is reported that they have 120 more on the way, and still others purchased. The rate at which the meters already in use clatter off the score of cubic feet indicates that bills of consumers will be advanced several hundred per cent.

Mr. Sheward estimates that the meter will raise his rate from $8 50 to $25 a month. J. M. Witmer judges from the record thus far made (since May 2d) that he may be called upon to pay $100 a month. Another man suspects that his rate will be jumped up from $2.50 to $32 50 a month. This prospect of affairs naturally makes the hillites nervous.

Mr. Sheward was seen by a TIMES reporter yesterday and said that he proposes to fight the matter to the bitter end if such a gouge game is attempted on him.

"I have been paying my rate of $8.50 a month without a murmur," he said, "but since this new phase of the case has come up I have been making some figures, and here is the result" (producing a paper):

Under the ordinance now in force the Citizen's Water Company has the legal right to charge for

9-room house, including bath and closet	$1 50
horse, including vehicle	15
1 additional horse	10
120 feet of frontage (2 cents a front foot)	2 40
2 vehicles	20
Total legal charges	$4 35
Total amount I have been paying	$8 50
Total overcharge one month	4 15
Total overcharge one year	49 80

New rates to take effect July 1, 1890:

9-room dwelling	$1 60
1 bath-tub	25
1 closet	25
1296 square yards lawn and shrubbery	25
2 horses	35
Total legal right by measure	$2 94

This shows an advance over present legal rates of $1 59, "an increase of over 36 per cent. The meter rates show an advance of over 300 per cent. and 250 meters are now being arbitrarily placed in the houses of the largest consumers."

The gouge in the meter rates is right here: The old ordinance fixed the price at 15 cents per 1000 gallons, when the quantity did not exceed 10,000 gallons a month, and 10 cents per 1000 gallons when above that. The new rate changes to cubic feet, and gives the following meter rates: Up to 1000 cubic feet of water, at 35 cents per 100 cubic feet; between 1000 and 5000 cubic feet, 30 cents per 100 cubic feet; between 5000 and 10,000 cubic feet, 25 cents per 100 cubic feet; over 10,000 cubic feet, 20 cents. No meter bill shall be less than $2 per month.

Now, 1000 cubic feet is equal to only about seven hundred and fifty gallons, and while the standard quantity has been lowered, the price has been advanced from 10 and 15 cents to 20 and 35 cents. Thus the advance is from one hundred to two hundred and fifty per cent. in the new ordinance.

Hill dwellers propose not only to fight the meters if they are imposed upon them, but will carry the war into Africa on the other schedule prices.

DOG PRIZES

Awarded at the Bench Show Yesterday.

LONG LIST OF PREMIUM PURPS

And the Owners Who "Wouldn't Take Any Money for Them" and So Forth—A Decided Success.

The canine congregation got successfully through another day's exhibition yesterday. The attendance was again very large, and the show has been a decided financial success. The management deserves a great deal of praise, and their successful management this year insures a still larger exhibition in the future. One of the hardest-worked members of the managing committee is E. K. Benchley, the secretary. The more tedious portion of the work fell to his lot, and he was able to materially aid in the success of the show. H. H. Wilson, the superintendent, also deserves much credit for his skillful work. He is thoroughly posted on dogs, and knows how to conduct a dog show.

At 10 a.m. yesterday the judging of the dogs for prizes recommenced, and was continued until completed, late in the afternoon. The winners of the blue ribbons walked away in high feather, and every dog thus decorated went up considerably in the estimation of his elated owner. The red-ribbon winners were not quite so happy, while the winners of the white ribbon were thoroughly disgusted. The following were the winners yesterday:

Class 45—Cocker spaniels, bitches: First prize, Capt. D. D. Wheeler, Los Angeles, Chick; second prize, G. H. Hamstadt, San Bernardino, Snowball.

Class 46—Cocker spaniels (under 12 months): First prize, John Machell, Orange, Lad; second prize, John Machell, Orange, Lass.

HERE YOU ARE!

Some Able and Accurate Information from Fresno.

[Fresno Budget.]

The newspapers and people of the extreme southern portion of this State want the earth in politics and an option on the moon. We admire ambition, spirit and enterprise, when accompanied by a sprinkling of modesty, but other sections have rights which should be respected. They have on the Republican side two candidates for Governor in the persons of H. H. Markham and G. Wiley Wells (!); two candidates for Congress, J. Nestor Young of San Diego and Lawyer Fitzgerald of Los Angeles; two candidates for Secretary of State and one for Attorney-General. It is right that they should have something, but in this Congressional district it is time the great San Joaquin Valley should be recognized. Mr. Fitzgerald would make an excellent judge for the supreme bench, and Mr. Young would do well as State Senator, as he has served two terms in the Assembly. The position of Governor might be gracefully conceded, but is that not enough?

On the Democratic side they present a candidate for Governor, and a failure in this for United States Senator, in the person of Stephen M. White; two candidates for Congress in the persons of J. D. Lynch of Los Angeles and Byron Waters of San Bernardino. Several others have been named for State officers, and J. Marion Brooks is an aspirant for the position of Attorney-General. Byron Waters would make a roaring Congressman, and would revive the days of Davy Crockett in his terse and rugged English and fill the void now perceptible in the retirement of Tom Ochiltree.

In the mean time the Republicans of the extreme southern portion of the district are not unanimous for Gen. Vandever for a third term. He has served them faithfully in many things, but he is getting very old, and more active and energetic blood is required to meet the demands of a rapidly growing section. Mr. Vandever has made some mistakes in advising the President concerning appointments, and mistakes of this sort cause more dissatisfaction among the party managers than any other sort. It may be set down that he will not be the next nominee.

A Veteran Fireman Gone.

Louis F. Barthel, engineer of Boyle Heights engine, No. 6, died at his residence in Boyle Heights yesterday morning of quick consumption, leaving a widow and a little girl baby two days old. He was a member of old Thirty-eight's engine company, volunteer fire department, and has been associated with the service ever since. The funeral will take place next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Orr & Sutch's undertaking establishment, Spring street, under the auspices of the fire department. The exempt and volunteer firemen, under the command of ex-Chief Walter S. Moore, will attend the funeral in a body.

Off His Base.

The dog reporter of the Express must have been "filled" by another greenhorn yesterday or taken in by a practical joker, when he stated that Charles F. Lummis of THE TIMES was present at the dog show on crutches and could not assist Mrs. Lummis when she paraded her monster mastiff before the judges, who awarded the animal the first prize. Mr. Lummis is 1500 miles from this city, and if he was ever sick enough to walk on crutches none of his friends ever heard of it.

Another Method for Curing Lemons.

[Louisiana Progress.]

The best cured lemons we have ever seen in this valley are those D. L. Davenport has cured by the spreading of a layer of barley chaff between the fruit, and allowing the whole to remain in a dark room for weeks. Mr. Davenport has a large quantity of lemons that have been picked 185 days, and that for juiciness, flavor, color and keeping qualities are the peer of any S cily lemons we have ever seen in New York. Mr. Davenport's plan for lemon curing is evidently a success, and we believe he will reap a rich harvest from his lemon crop this year.

DIED.

BARTHEL—Louis A. Barthel, May 7th, at Boyle Heights, of hemorrhage of the lungs.

Deceased was engineer and a member of the Boyle Heights fire department. Funeral from Orr & Sutch's undertaking parlors, Sunday, May 11th, at 3 p.m.

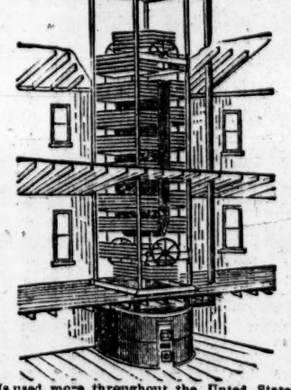
THE WILLIAMS FRUIT EVAPORATOR



Is used more throughout the United States than any machine made. It will evaporate more fruit for the amount of tray surface with less labor than any other machine. Therefore it is the most economical and cheapest. Hundreds of them are in use throughout the Northern States for apples while in the peach district in the Southern States there are ten to one of any other machine made. They are pronounced by those who use them and have used others in connection, to be the only practical machine. In 1888 seven were bought by different parties in Ventura county, the same parties owning machines but gave preference to the Williams as others have done before them. I have a carload of these machines on hand now, but as there are several parties about purchasing now, and there will be more orders than I have machines to fill some will have to be filled at the factory. Therefore send in your orders early. Send for catalogue and price list to

Notice of Foreclosure Sale.

SHERIFF'S SALE, NO. 12,454.—Mary C. Gower, plaintiff, vs. J. H. Van Keith, Charlotte Von Keith, his wife, the De Camp Lumber Company, J. H. Lee, C. A. Schmidt & S. Van Doren, and the Los Angeles Sand-stone Company, a corporation, defendants. Order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale.

Under and by virtue of an order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale, issued out of the Superior Court of the county of Los Angeles, State of California, on the 25th day of April, A.D. 1890, in the above entitled action, wherein Mary C. Gower the above named plaintiff, obtained a judgment of decree and foreclosure and sale against J. H. Van Keith et al., defendants, on the 25th day of April, A.D. 1890, for the sum of $198.00 in gold coin of the United States, which said decree was on the 3d day of May, A.D. 1890, recorded in judgment book 17 of said court, at page 245, I am commanded to sell all those certain lots, pieces or parcels of land, situate lying and being in the county of Los Angeles, State of California, and bounded and described as follows:

THE TIMES IN PASADENA.

The advantage to residents of Pasadena in buying THE TIMES consists in the fact that they not only get in its columns the news of their own city every day, but also the news of Los Angeles, of the State, the Coast, the East and the world.

The paper is served regularly by carrier, at an early hour every morning, to the residences and business places of citizens, at the same price charged in Los Angeles.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

PASADENA'S dogs went to the Los Angeles show to win—and they won.

THE clouds that hung heavy in all quarters yesterday told of the rains that are falling farther north.

A MAN who will strike a woman can usually be set down as a coward and a brute. Pasadena has no use for such citizens.

THE indications are that the crisis is passed, and that Pasadena is moving in the right direction. If you don't believe it, ask the real-estate men.

THE chances are that Memorial day will be observed in Pasadena in a manner befitting its solemnity and importance as an anniversary occasion.

THE two recent accidents between here and Los Angeles should prove sufficient examples to emphasize the danger of using a railroad track as a highway or as a playground for children.

THOSE who visited the several school exhibitions this week could not but be impressed by the wonderful advancement made during recent years in the methods of teaching and the improved facilities furnished our public school children. California can justly point with pride to her public educational institutions, of which Pasadena has her full quota.

THE Los Angeles, Pasadena and Glendale road, between Los Angeles and Pasadena, is laid with rails that weigh sixty pounds to the foot. The standard rail of the Union Pacific is of similar weight. This single coincidence has led to the frequent assertion that the present local road will some time soon form a part of the Union Pacific's contemplated southern trunk line, and that it was built with this definite object in view. President John Cross emphatically denies the truth of this rumor, which he declares to be the outcome of some super-sensitive imaginations. He acknowledges, however, that he was unfortunate in laying a 60-pound rail, as it has been ascertained, beyond a doubt, that some local anti-monopolists have refused to patronize the road because their prophetic eyes have discovered deep laid schemes and dangerous combines lurking beneath the coincidence above referred to. Should further investigation prove the crossties used by the roads in question to be of the same heft and dimensions, there would remain no longer room for doubt as to the correctness of the prophesied combination, and even those among us most feebly imaginative would not have to strain our ears to hear the rumble of a Union Pacific eight-wheeler up in the Arroyo Seco Cañon.

BREVITIES.

Strawberries have struck bottom-rock prices—seven boxes for 25 cents.

Dr. Sevartha gave an interesting talk at the Glen Rosa yesterday afternoon.

Pasadena was well represented at the Ellis Club concert in Los Angeles last night.

The next rehearsal for the national and war-song concert is announced for Saturday evening.

Another dog was cut into mince-meat by a Santa Fé train yesterday morning near Colorado street.

Superintendent of Streets Brown may be found at his office hereafter from 8 to 9 a.m. and from 2 to 3 p.m.

The Valley Hunt Club will meet for the chase Saturday at 8:30 o'clock at the corner of Marengo avenue and California street.

The funeral of Mrs. Greely took place at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Interment was made in Mountain View Cemetery.

The water companies owning the land in and about the Devil's Gate have issued a notice forbidding picnickers to occupy the grounds without special written permission.

Owing to a scarcity of witnesses and interested parties, the trial of the La Cañada Mexicans arrested on the charge of assault was postponed by Judge Van Doren yesterday morning until Saturday.

Dr. Mansfield has purchased a four-acre tract from C. C. Brown on the northeast corner of Lake avenue and Colorado street. The sale was effected through Thomas Earley. Terms private.

Two families, one of seven and the other of nine members, have just taken up their residences respectively on Madison avenue and El Dorado street, in close proximity. One instance of Pasadena's growing population.

PERSONALS.

E. H. Lockwood has resumed business here in the real-estate line.

Mrs. Mary D. Bounds of Salida is visiting Mrs. George W. Sheaff, 19 Wooster avenue.

Miss English of San Gabriel and Miss Shoemaker of Pasadena lunched with Miss Carter at Duarte yesterday.

Mrs. Safford who went east with the Warner excursion party, had in charge the remains of her husband, which will be buried at Hillsboro, N. H.

Ed S. Gill of Los Augeles was in town yesterday negotiating for the purchase of a portion of the defunct Union's outfit, which he proposes to use in the job department of his new paper in Phœnix, Ariz.

Miss Minnie Mabley of Detroit, Mich., is in town for an extended visit at the residence of her cousin, Mrs. G. H. Granger, on Orange Grove avenue.

Dr. G. Roscoe Thomas and J. B. Clapp will go as delegates from the First Congregational Church of this place to the State Church Association which convenes in Santa Barbara Tuesday next.

GRANT AND JACKSON.

Closing Exhibitions at Two Public Schools.

SCHOLARS' EXCELLENT WORK.

Other Events of Interest—Capt. Cross Denies a Rumor—The Prince Excursion—Brevities and Personals.

The series of public-school exhibitions, which began Monday morning at the Washington school, closed yesterday with the Jackson school at Linda Vista, and the Grant school on Michigan avenue.

The exhibition was held at the Jackson school in the morning. This institution, so charmingly situated to the west of the arroyo, not far from the Devil's Gate, comprises instruction in the primary grades, and is in charge of Miss Lydia Burson. The room was neatly decorated with palms and roses, and the motto, "Judge us kindly," was prettily woven in a bed of Marechal Niel roses. The work exhibited displayed to good advantage the rapid progress made by the youthful pupils in language, penmanship, drawing and sewing. The work was inspected by a large number of the school's patrons and other visitors.

THE GRANT SCHOOL.

The exhibition of the Grant school, on Michigan avenue, followed in the afternoon. Here the scholars did not content themselves with decorating the building's interior, but ornamented the outside with rich garlands of roses and trailing vines. The front vestibule was a mass of flowers, and the two schoolrooms were trimmed in a manner correspondingly artistic. The decorations were arranged exclusively by the scholars, none of whom have passed their fifth year of school life.

C. W. Hodson presides over the fourth and fifth year pupils. In this department were exhibited reproductions in language, geography, physiology and elementary science, in which each child illustrates his or her own lesson. All of the work displayed was creditable, and some of the maps and drawings were of special merit.

Miss Agnes Elliott has charge of the first, second and third year scholars. The work exhibited in this department consists chiefly of illustrations of plants worked in silk over original drawings by the pupils, together with various models worked in clay. A large number of interested visitors inspected the exhibits in the two departments.

Six exhibitions have been given during the week, with most gratifying success. Over one thousand visitors inspected the work at the several schools, and expressed hearty appreciation of the work as it is now being conducted.

BALL AND RACQUET.

Club Day of the Tennis Organization—An Invitation.

Yesterday was club day of the local tennis organization. Owing to the threatening weather and the absence from town of a number of the members, there was not the usual large attendance. Among the contests that took place during the afternoon was an exciting match in mixed doubles, in which Mr. Channing and Miss Cooley were pitted against Mr. Gilmore and Miss Bradley. The latter team came off victorious, winning two out of the three sets played.

An invitation has just been received by the secretary asking the club to participate in a tournament to be held July 4th and 5th next, at San Rafael, under the auspices of the United States national association. Various events will be played for the championship of the Pacific Coast, and valuable trophies will go to the winners. It is likely that the local club will be represented in the tournament.

Plans are maturing for a tournament on the home grounds on Memorial day.

WHAT CAPT. CROSS SAYS.

He Denies a Current Rumor—The Weight of a Rail.

Capt. Cross, president of the Los Angeles, Pasadena and Glendale Railroad, told a representative of THE TIMES a few days ago that the rumor now going the rounds again to the effect that this road has been built for the purpose of forming a western terminus to the Union Pacific's contemplated through line is entirely without foundation.

"The only reason for such talk is because we happened to lay a 60-pound rail, the same as that used by the Union Pacific," said the Captain. "The story has hurt us more than those who have circulated it imagine, for some people think we are deceiving them and therefore patronize the other road. We built the road to Pasadena to give to your people cheap fares and rapid communication to Los Angeles, and as a result to make the investment pay; simply that and nothing more. We have nothing to do with the Union Pacific. I think it is well able to take care of itself."

A Financial Success.

The ice-cream and strawberry festival given yesterday evening in the Carlton parlors, under the auspices of the Young People's Christian Endeavor Society of the Baptist Church, was liberally patronized and proved a financial success. The floral decorations were handsome.

The following musical programme was excellently rendered:

Vocal solo—Miss Mamie Peirce.
Instrumental solo—Miss Klippstein.
Vocal solo—Miss Nellie Stoutenburgh.
Piano duet—Misses Camper and Fish.
Vocal solo—Miss May Johnson.
Violin solo—Miss L. Grace Wilde.
Vocal duet—Misses Stoutenburgh and Johnson.
Piano solo—Miss Mamie Peirce.

Dogs That Took Prizes.

The dogs sent from Pasadena and vicinity to the Los Angeles show have taken several prizes. Among others are the following: Capt. Anderson, for mastiffs, St. Bernards and pointers; C. F. Holder, greyhounds; R. T. Vandevoort, pointers; Valley Hunt, greyhounds and fox hounds.

MT. WILSON.

Preparations for This Summer's Mountain Climbers.

A. G. Strain, proprietor of the Mt. Wilson Hotel and camp, near the observatory, was in Los Angeles on Wednesday. He has a comfortable old-style log cabin built of pine and fir logs, which is nestled in a cañon beneath lofty trees and close to pure water and furnishes a delightful resort for tired mountain climbers who make the journey up Wilson trail. Mr. Strain proposes to run his place himself this year, and will have a first-class resort, furnishing meals and lodging at a reasonable price. He will add to the attractions of his retreat a telescope with three-inch lens, which is to be mounted on a prominent point to gain an unobstructed view of the valley and the heavens. Inasmuch as the instruments in the observatory are not available for the public generally, this will be a great advantage for visitors. Mr. Strain also has in view a better instrument to be purchased in the East.

People wishing to make the ascent of Mt. Wilson should take the Santa Fé line to Santa Anita station, where a 'bus is in waiting to carry passengers to Sierra Madre and the foot of the trail. There provisions and pack animals may be procured and all necessary directions, or a guide, if required, can be had.

The expenses to Santa Anita by rail from either Los Angeles or Pasadena are nominal. From the railroad station to the foot of the trail the fare is 25 cents a head. At the foot of the trail a single burro can be secured for twenty-four hours for the sum of $2. The regular rates at the camp are 50 cents per meal a head and 50 cents for lodging during the night. It will be seen, therefore, that the trip, with railroad fare, a burro, three meals on the summit and lodging can be enjoyed by one person within the limit of a $5 bill.

OFF FOR THE EAST.

A Special Warner Excursion Made Up of Pasadenians.

Warner's special eastern excursion from Pasadena left yesterday morning on the Santa Fé overland under the personal supervision of Fred W. Prince, local agent of that company. The excursionists comfortably filled two tourist cars, and a small number occupied sections in the Pullman sleeper. Mr. Prince expects to return in about six weeks, after an extended tour through the Eastern States.

The excursionists and their destinations were as follows:

Mrs. J. K. Kelly, Philadelphia; Mrs. A. Juers, Silver Creek, N. Y.; Mrs. Woodruff, Mrs. Vaughn and mother, Miss Vaughn and friends, Chicago; Miss Senter, New York; Mrs. J. S. Baldwin, Niles, Mich.; W. N. Halsted and wife, Paterson, N. J.; Mrs. Matthews, Anamosa, Pa.; Miss Thomas, Belmont, O.; Miss Foote, Kokomo, Ind.; Miss Connor, Richmond, Ind.; Mrs. Cummings, Powa, Ill.; I. Reynolds and wife, Richmond, Ind.; Mrs. W. H. Hoff and children, Freeport, Ill.; Mrs. Randall, Palo, Ill.; Mrs. Copeland, Yellow Springs, O.; Miss Fritzer, Denver; Mmes. O. Freeman, Troger, Miss Troger, Chicago; Mrs. O. B. Skinner, Miss Skinner, Mr. Skinner, Cleveland, O.; Mrs. G. F. Day and friend, Rev. A. Gockley, Mrs. M. Hill and daughter, Chicago; Mrs. N. E. Coope and mother, Miss Coope, Finley City, Mich.; Mrs. Safford, Hillsboro, N.H.; Mrs. Patrick, Albany, N.Y.; Miss Gottschalk, Mrs. Vermillion, Evansville, Ind.; Mrs. A. L. Conger, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Prize Winners.

The Pasadena Whist Club held a social session Tuesday evening in its rooms in the Carlton block. A series of well played games was enjoyed, and the prizes, consisting of handsome card cases and match boxes, were won by Messrs. St. John and Kayser, and Van Doren and Jones. It was a late hour when the players dispersed. These special occasions, known as "social nights," are among the most enjoyable of the club's attractions.

Once a Year.

The annual reunion of the several organizations connected with the parish of the Universalist Church will be held next Tuesday evening. The reports of the work accomplished during the past year in the various departments of the church's work will be read, after which some time will be spent in social and literary enjoyment.

FARM TOPICS.

How English Walnuts Pay.

[Pomona Progress.]

Hiram Kinney has a four-acre walnut orchard, 10 years old, on his farm near Downey that has annually borne a crop worth not less than nine hundred and fifty dollars in several years. Mr. Kinney told us the other day that the price paid for the nuts varied each year from six to nine and one-half cents. He never had the least trouble in finding a market for the crop. In fact, he now has advance offers for his English walnut crop from several firms in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Chicago, anxious to buy all he can raise. Mr. K. reckons that his last English walnut crop paid him an average of $3.28 a tree, and as he has 100 trees to the acre, the gross receipts from an acre of the nuts are $328. In 1888 the crop from the 400 trees sold for exactly $1184. There is no work about an English walnut orchard compared with a prune, orange, or lemon orchard, and the net profits, therefore, run higher. The trees do not, however, bear profitable crops until they are five or six, sometimes seven years old. California supplies less than one-fifth the eastern market with English walnuts.

Great Demand for Orange Trees.

[Citrograph.]

Some idea of the rush for orange trees may be gathered from the Press' report of auction sale. It says: "There was a large attendance at the sale of seed-bed orange trees held by Dr. N. H. Claflin Saturday afternoon. The first bidding was exciting, and the auctioneer, F. A. Miller, disposed of the first 10,000 trees to Griffin & Skelley at $38 per 1000; E. J. Waite of Redlands secured the second 10,000 at $31.75 per 1000. The balance of the trees were sold in small lots, and brought an average of $24 per 1000. Altogether the sale was very satisfactory." We should imagine it was. Lots of seed-bed trees have been sold at $10 per 1000, and there is money in raising them at that price. But orange trees are going to rule high for the next three years.

Mess. Harris & Frank,
London Clothing Co.,
Los Angeles, Cal.,

Gentlemen:-

You have, no doubt, for the past few months, heard as a rumor, that the firm of Fechheimer, Goodkind & Co. would go out of business.

As a matter of fact, we have now decided that after July first we shall not carry any more stock on this side, and shall in the future do all our business, delivering of goods, etc., from the New York end.

We have, therefore decided, in view of these facts, to close out to the larger trade such stock as we now have on hand, and as we particularly wish that our best friends and customers should derive any benefit through our selling out that there may be, we shall say to you that if by next week you could conveniently come up here you would find many goods which you could use, both for present and future use, to good advantage.

Hoping to see you, we are, with kindest regards,

Yours very truly,

O. S. Fechheimer Goodkind & Co.

To take advantage of the above offer to buy good, well-made goods cheap, our Mr. L. Harris left on Sunday's train for San Francisco; and Five Per Cent. Interest Paid on Deposits.

The notice of the public is called to the fact that this bank only loans money on approved real estate security; that it does not loan money to its stockholders, officers or clerks; that among its stockholders are some of the oldest and most responsible citizens of the community; that, under the State laws, the private estates of its stockholders are pro rata liable for the total indebtedness of the bank.

These facts, with care exercised in making loans, insure a safe depository for savings accounts. School teachers, clerks, mechanics, employes in factories and shops, laborers, etc., will find it convenient to make deposits in small amounts.

CATARRH,

Throat Diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption, together with Diseases of the Eye, Ear and Heart successfully treated by M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D., M.C.P.S.O., By his Hot Air Medicated Inhalations and his Compound Oxygen Treatment.

Probably no system of practice ever employed has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

CATARRH.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract fresh cold. Indeed, he declares that he is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another, and he is always exceedingly careful; it is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and throat.

At times many of the symptoms of catarrh seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another class of symptoms soon appear and he learns to his horror that, instead of recovery from the disease, it is somewhat changed in its character and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in reading, speaking or singing; hoarseness at times occurs, a sensation of dryness is felt in the throat, or it appears that some foreign substance, as, for instance, a hair, obstructed the throat; there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue; the breath lessens on a little exertion, a short, hacking cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though there was not room enough in the chest to breathe; these and other symptoms occur after the disease has made considerable progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work. Up to this time the press of the disease may have been slow and the patient may in expressing his confident hope that it will "wear off," declare that he has had the catarrh for years and has not seemed to become much worse, and trusts that he will "by and by" recover. But such delusion is the grand error which has peopled our cemeteries with consumptive forms as all forms of catarrh end finally in consumption.

Every case of catarrh is curable when properly treated. Eastern visitors and invalids should avail themselves of the opportunity of being cured before they return home.

Those who desire to consult me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for an examination, but if impossible to visit the office personally can write for list of questions and circular, both of which will be sent free of charge. Address
